Aerial Drone (RPA) Survey of Assam Inland Water Transport Project

1. Introduction

The Brahmaputra, running through the heart of the state of Assam, provides a vital link for both urban and rural ferry services which are the single most important transport mode for many section of the population, especially rural households in Assam. These ferry services are provided by the Directorate of Inland Waterway Transport Assam, and by country boat operators – typically small independent and informal private businesses. In addition to the 104 ferry service routes designated by the Directorate of IWT, there are numerous routes licensed by the local (village) and district councils. Other users of the river include the Central Inland Water Corporation Limited (a Government of India Undertaking transporting cargo and operating some terminals on the rivers in the Eastern India & North-Eastern India and on the Indo-Bangladesh protocol routes), border security forces, tourist organizations and private operators.

Now, the Government of Assam (GoA) proposes through the World Bank-financed Assam Inland Water Transport Project, to invest an amount of US$ 120 million in improvement of the quality of Inland Water Transport (IWT) services along with integration of high quality passenger and vehicle ferry services into Assam's wider transport network system. These investments will no doubt bring economic benefits to the region, with specific interventions contemplated to benefit women and children, other marginalised groups within the local communities, giving them an opportunity for greater participation and their empowerment as users of improved and safer IWT.
